

Curriculum vitae

Personal data

Name: Ramiro G.

Technical Knowledge and Skills

Java, MongoDB

Ramiro is a back-end developer with 20+ years of experience. He worked on mobile and web apps development, back-end development and cloud-native architecture, working mainly with Java, JavaScript and related technologies. He has a computer science degree. He also worked as a researcher and teacher. Ramiro loves new challenges, solving problems, and to deep-dive into new technologies.

Education

September 1991 —
June 1997

Argentina
Computer Science, Universidad Nacional De La Plata

Work experience

March 2019 -
Present

Software development, Remote
Senior Software Engineer

Stack:

- Java
- Spring Boot
- Typescript
- Node.js

Responsibilities:

- Work as a Senior developer and technical lead, leading teams of 4-7 developers

- Develop APIs and backend services on financial services products
- Another related project I've also worked on was creating a Foreign Exchange module
- Designing the product's architecture
- Making technical decisions
- Implementing some core parts and components

July 2000 -
March 2019

Informational technologies and services, Argentina
Software Architect, Web and Mobile Developer

Stack:

- Java
- Spring
- Javascript
- React & React Native
- Ionic
- Angular
- IOS
- Android
- Objective-C
- Cordova
- Node.js
- AWS
- MongoDB
- PouchDB
- Kubernetes
- Docker
- Jenkins
- Eclipse
- Oracle AS

Responsibilities:

- Created the Web and Mobile team, where I'm the main technical leader
- Envision, design and implement both mobile and web apps/sites
- My main experience is with Web technologies, object orientation, systems integration and distributed systems

